DERRINGER AND NEWSOM ON HILL FOR CHAMPIONS

Licensed Ticket Scalpers On Hand As Play Opens In Cincinnati

WINDOW SEATS OFFERED

Bookmakers Offering 14-10 On Detroit To Annex World's Title

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2—Temperatures of baseball fans rose to the boiling point in Cincinnati today under the impetus of World Series fever for the opening game between the National League Reds and the American League's Detroit Tigers.

Licensed ticket speculators mingled with rollicking throngs in the hope of finding some hapless fans who would be willing to pay double the regular price for a chance to push through the crowd at Crosley field.

While all seats, and standing room, was reported sold to an estimated 32,000 supporters of both teams, officials estimated there plenty of tickets in the hands of licensed speculators. One ticket seller, operating within the law in suburban Norwood, was reported willing to sell three grandstand seats for $25. Their face value is $16.95.

Edward W. Weinwuth, assistant Collector of Internal Revenue, reported that 10 more "scalpers" were registered this year than last, a total of 46. Federal officers said that 16 deputies were on hand to see that the government gets all it is entitled to from admission taxes.

Window Space Sold

Window space in several factory buildings near the stadium was said to be selling for from $2 to $3 per person.

The entire city of 452,000 was in a holiday mood. Forgotten was the defeat of the Reds last year by the Yankees. Cincinnati was certain its team would win this year, despite reports that New York bookmakers were laying 14 to 10 against the National League pennant winners.

The lineups:
Tigers: Bartell, ss. Werber, 3b. McCoskey, cf. Goodman, rf. Gehringer, 2b. F. McCormick, 1b. York, 1b. Higgs, 3b. Campbell, rf. Sullivan, c. Newsom, p.
Reds: Werber, 3b. McCoskey, cf. Goodman, rf. Gehringer, 2b. F. McCormick, 1b. York, 1b. Higgs, 3b. Campbell, rf. Sullivan, c. Newsom, p.

Play By Play

FIRST INNING
DETROIT: Derringer's first pitch to Bartell was a ball, high and inside. Strike one, called. Bartell missed, strike two. Ball two. Bartell fanned, missing the first strike. McCoskey up. Ball one. Ball two. McCoskey flied high to Ripple in short left field. Gehringer watched a called strike. Ball one. Ball two. Gehringer fouled into the left field stands. Gehringer was out, Derringer to Frank McCormick. No runs, no hits.

CINCINNATI: Werber up. He hit the first pitch to Higgs and was out at first. M. McCormick up. Called strike one. Foul, strike two. He lined to right field for a double, the first hit of the series. The ball struck York's glove, but the first baseman could not hold it. Goodman up. All one. Swinging strike one. Goodman hit a slow ball to Higgs at third and was out at first. M. McCormick holding second. F. Mc-

Reds Easy Foes, To Hear Bo-Bo Newsom Tell Tale

By Bill Corum

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2—Big Buck Newsom, who calls himself, and likes to be known as "old Bo-Bo," won the first game of the World's Series between the Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati Reds that begins today at least twenty times in the lobby of the Netherland-Plaza Hotel here last night.

"Old Bo-Bo" made each one of his victories for the Tigers a little more exciting and dramatic than the last, and finally wound up driving in the winning runs himself with a record breaking home run with the bases filled in the ninth.

Boisterous Buck practically had your correspondent, a confirmed National League addict, ready to pack and retire in disorder in the general direction of New York, until your correspondent suddenly realized that, under the rules, the game could not be played until this afternoon.

And, further, that before "old Bo-Bo" wins it for the Detroit and American League contingent, he will have had to do something about one Paul Derringer, an ex-tobacco hoer from Springfield, Ky., sometimes referred to in baseball circles as "the Springfield rifle."

However, he is never referred to as "the Springfield rifle," or by any other nickname, by Derringer himself, who just walks out there on that pitching peak and makes, day in and day out, a well nigh perfect job of serving up the little sphere.

While Mr. Newsom may be eminently correct in any one of, or possibly all, of his version of what he is going to do, "with my sliding sidearm delivery," to the poor Reds, we have decided to stay right here and see him do it.

Once anyhow.

For, and this still will go if he gets knocked into the showers in a completely horizontal position in the first heat this afternoon, Derringer is the best one game pitcher in baseball today.

Bobby Feller is the best potential pitcher in the game and chuckles the highest, hardest, hottest fireball. But for one game in the clutch, he hasn't the years graying the hair behind his ears to have what "the Springfield rifle" has.

ASSASSINS SLAY 12 POLICEMEN IN BUDAPEST HOTEL

Budapest, Oct. 2—Alarmed by mounting Iron Guard violence, Romanian authorities today sought the "green-shirt" assassins of 12 Romanian police who were shot en masse in the lobby of a Galatz Hotel.

According to reports reaching Budapest, the gendarmes were being held in custody in the hotel. The "green-shirts" disarmed their captors, lined the officers against the lobby wall and shot them.

DETROIT JUDGE SHOTS FRIEND, EVADES POLICE

Wayne County Barrister At Liberty After Incident In County Office

TWO OTHERS WOUNDED

Argument Over Sports Park Leads To Incident, Says One Of Injured

DETROIT, Oct. 2—Police combed the city today in an effort to find Wayne County, Common Pleas Judge Robert E. Sage, 44, who last night assertedly shot and killed Ralph Nadell, 48, a business associate, and wounded two other associates.

Authorities were baffled at Sage's quick disappearance. He apparently fled from his offices in the county building, where the shooting occurred, in his shirt sleeves. A few moments later, according to reports, he was seen in a bar across the street. But when police arrived there, he had disappeared.

Nadell was killed, according to Maurice D. Smilay, 58, one of the wounded men, following an argument concerning the operation of Sports Park, an enterprise in which Sage had invested heavily. The other wounded man was Al Nadell, 39, a brother of the dead man.

Whipped Out Gun

"Sage just whipped out the gun and shouted, 'this will pacify everybody' and started shooting," Smilay related.

Both Smilay and Al Nadell, blood streaming from bullet wounds in their shoulders, were standing on the steps of the county building when police arrived. In Sage's office, Ralph Nadell was found slumped in the chair he had been sitting in when a bullet penetrated his temple.

In Receiving Hospital where he and Al Nadell were taken, Smilay said, "he (the judge) just seemed to go haywire. He began yelling and started to shoot."

STATE TROOPERS TO DISCUSS BUND AND ACTIVITIES

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 2—New York state troopers from the plain clothes division were expected to produce some surprises today at the Dies committee hearing here which is probing into subversive activities in New Jersey.

The troopers gave information privately to members of the committee yesterday at a closed hearing which preceded yesterday's open session.

In addition it was learned an investigator for the committee had discovered that an official of the pro-Nazi German American Bund is employed in a key position in a private industrial firm now engaged in making shells for the government. The firm, according to information obtained by the investigator, was fearful of dismissing the Bundsman because of his "influence" with some valuable workmen.

Yesterday's opening hearing produced two major sensations, one the assertion of G. Wilhelm Kunze, national leader of the Bund, that it was no longer anti-Semitic and was now opposed to all "isms" including even Nazism and the other the disclosure of three specific instances of sabotage at the Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock Company at Chester, Pa.

LOCAL GIRL FUGITIVE
DELAWARE, Oct. 2—Three fugitives were to be returned to the Girl's Industrial school near Delaware today from Springfield where they were arrested by state highway patrolmen. They gave their names as Augusta Brown, 20, Circleville; Mary Scott, 18, Barnesville, and Thelma Lunsford, 18, Eaton.

Flying Corps' First Twins

IDENTICAL twins, flying the same basic trainer and sharing the same room, are among the cadets at Randolph Field, Texas, West Point of the Air, and are reported well on their way toward commissions as second lieutenants. The pair, N. P. and A. J. Tucker of Rolla, Mo., who hope to become pilots of twin-engined bombers, are the first twins in Air Corps history.

AIRMEN PUT ON JAPAN TO TURN POWER PARADE DOWN U. S. TALK

23 Latin-Americans Visit Foreign Office Hints Of U. S. Posts To Look On Non-Aggression Pact With Russia

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—America's air might went on parade today as 23 Latin-American military chieftains started a tour of U. S. army posts and defense establishments—a tour arranged to help build up a united Western Hemisphere front against European dictator nations.

Greeted in Washington by President Roosevelt with the stirring words "one for all and all for one," the military experts, representing nine Central and South American countries, went to Langley Field, Va., nerve center of the general headquarters air force, in huge army transport planes this morning.

Later, beginning a 13-day flying tour designed to show the South American visitors that this country has the might to enforce the Monroe Doctrine, the Latin-American officers will be taken to Ft. Benning, Ga.; Barksdale Field, La.; Randolph Field, Tex.; Ft. Sill, Okla.; Ft. Knox, Ky.; Detroit and New York to inspect military defense establishments.

No secret is being made in diplomatic circles of the fact that the trip will be a continuous show of the army's war weapons.

ATHENS COUNTY COMMISSIONERS LOSE IN COURT

COLUMBUS, Oct. 2—Two former Athens County commissioners convicted on bribe solicitation charges today lost an appeal to the state supreme court for release from the London prison farm.

In habeas corpus proceedings, the two former officials, Ira Whitmore and Walter MacCombs, contended they should have been released because at their trial the presiding judge allegedly left the courtroom. The supreme court held that the remedy lay in an appeal rather than habeas corpus action.

The high court declined to review the cases of Stanley Korben and Joseph Biel, of Cleveland, who were convicted on a charge of carrying concealed weapons in Cuyahoga County. The defendants contended that when they were arrested with two companions they had no knowledge of the presence of a pistol and revolver in the auto.

LONDON HEARS FIVE ALARMS

Long-Range Batteries At Dover Hurl Blasts At German Convoy Observed Along French Coastal Area; Direct Hit Reported

DORNIER CRASHES IN FLAMES

Britain Claims Great Damage Done To Reich Objectives In Methodical Night Raids; Berlin Munitions Factory Struck

LONDON, Oct. 2—Chancellor Hitler today hurled 500 warplanes at England, causing five air raid alarms to sound in London.

But Royal Air Force fighting planes and terrific anti-aircraft barrages broke up the raiders' formations and drove the greater portion of them back. Only a few managed to penetrate as far as the area of London.

Simultaneously the long-range shore batteries at Dover opened up on a German convoy, half-shrouded in mist, which was proceeding up the French coast on the other side of the channel. British dive bombers took off to attack the German ships, which were protected by fast motor torpedo boats ahead and astern. The shore batteries are said to have scored at least one direct hit.

During the morning three formations of approximately 150 planes each attempted to hammer through to the capital without success. This afternoon a similar Nazi attack group crossed the Kent Coast, to be met by RAF pilots, engaged in furious dogfights, and finally forced to jettison their bombs over open country and scurry for home.

As the fifth air raid of the day—the 154th of the war—was in progress, anti-aircraft guns could be heard booming in distant suburban areas of the capital.

Fighters Roar Into Action

The British fighters roared into action against the Nazi air legions as London's warning sirens thrice sent residents of the capital diving for shelter.

The third alarm of the day sounded a few minutes after a Nazi Dornier bomber crashed in flames in Suffolk after a running battle with British Spitfires.

Before being knocked to earth the Dornier had machine-gunned and bombed a southeastern English town, damaging a number of buildings before it was intercepted.

The third alarm in London was of brief duration. It occurred when a lone plane, probably a reconnaissance craft, flew overhead at a tremendous altitude, drawing a few bursts of anti-aircraft fire.

Simultaneously German planes appeared over various other parts of England.

Heavy anti-aircraft fire drove off a lone raider hovering over a Welsh town where a number of incendiary bombs were dropped without causing damage.

A motion picture theatre in a northwestern English town was hit by three heavy incendiary bombs while a capacity audience was within the building.

Singing Concert Heard

The patrons held an impromptu singing concert while the theatre staff fought the blaze and finally extinguished it. The show then continued.

LONDON, Oct. 2—Punishing new attacks by the Royal Air Force on military objectives in Berlin and elsewhere in Nazi Germany were announced by the British Air Ministry today.

Maintaining a schedule as steady as the nightly German raids on England, the RAF hammered Berlin and the Reich's vital supply bases while other squadrons dropped explosives on continental ports held by the Germans, the ministry said.

An official communique stated: "Strong forces of RAF bombers last night attacked a munitions factory in Berlin, electric power stations at Duisburg and Cologne. (Continued on Page Eight)"

European Bulletins

LONDON—Nazi Germany is running out of rubber and has used up all the oil captured in invaded countries, Hugh Dalton, minister of economic warfare, told a luncheon group today. The Reich's own sources of supplies now are weakened, he said. Dalton deprecated rumors of an impending famine in continental Europe. "There is enough food for everyone if it is equally shared," he said.

LONDON — Intensification of submarine warfare and stormy weather may lead to suspension of evacuation of British children to Canada, Australia and South Africa, the Daily Express said today.

TOKYO—Reports that Japanese subjects have been ordered to leave London were denied today by the Tokyo foreign office spokesman, who said that 150 of the 700 Japanese in the British (Continued on Page Eight)

U. S. REQUESTS RETURN OF 110 FRENCH PLANES

Aircraft Sent To Former Ally Of Britain Now At Martinique

QUESTIONS ARE INVOLVED

President And Vichy Envoy Discuss Problems Of Two Governments

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 — The United States, it was learned today, has asked France to return to this country the 110 war planes that it purchased just before its defeat by Germany. The planes are now in the West Indian island of Martinique.

This, according to a source in close touch with the matter, was the main subject of President Roosevelt's conference yesterday with Gaston Henri-Haye, the French ambassador. The matter of Washington's relations with the government of Marshal Henri Petain in Vichy, less than cordial lately, also was discussed.

It is not known whether the envoy gave the President any definite assurances as to whether the planes would be turned over to an American mission, if one called at Martinique to collect them. Presumably he is referring the matter to his chiefs at Vichy. But he emphasized, in talking with reporters later, the cordial and friendly nature of his conversation with the President.

Isle Facilities Cited

Meanwhile, both the State Department and the White House denied reports that Vichy has asked this government's agreement to improvement of naval facilities at Martinique. Press reports from Vichy saying that France planned new installations there were regarded in informed Washington circles as a "trial balloon."

The airplanes, return of which America is asking, were made in this country, but were shipped from a Canadian port aboard the French aircraft carrier Bearn just before the fall of Paris. The carrier was on the high seas when its commander learned by wireless of France's defeat.

The commander headed for the French-controlled port of Martinique, where his ship joined a cruiser and a flotilla of smaller vessels. When British naval intelligence learned that they were there, warships were sent to blockade the port and see that the French boats and their valuable cargo of planes, and about $250,000,000 in gold, did not escape to fall later, perhaps, into German hands. The British flotilla, holding the French in a trap, has been there ever since.

Planes Unprotected

Recently, however, the planes were unloaded and, according to a recently published photograph, are lying on a beach, unprotected from the elements.

As the planes were paid for by France before being taken from the United States, their original manufacturers have no legal claim on them. Presumably, if they are sent back to this country, some compensation would be offered to France.

In his talk with Ambassador Henri-Haye yesterday, the President was represented as having said that French agreement to his proposal would be one means of improving relations between the United States and the Vichy government.

These relations lately have become distinctly cool. While U. S. officials understand that the Petain government is a virtual prisoner of Berlin, they feel that France could at least avoid attacks on its old ally, Britain.

Another 'Swindle' Note Reported In Circleville

Postmaster Hulse Hays announced Wednesday that a fraudulent letter, proposing a financial scheme known to postmasters as the "Spanish Swindle" had been received at the postoffice.

The letter, addressed to a Circleville business man, was written by a person in Mexico, who supposedly had been placed in prison on a charge of bankruptcy. The letter stated that the prisoner had a considerable amount of baggage, one suit case containing $285,000 at the United States custom office, and that the money could not be released until the duty had been paid. It stated in the letter that if the receiver would bring to Mexico the necessary amount for the release of the baggage, he would be given one-third of the money. A go-between was supposed to take the money to the custom office, release the bags, and return with one third of the sum contained in the bags. The swindle comes when the go-between takes the money for the release of the bags and then never shows up again.

The letter is the third of its kind received at the local office, the postmaster said.

DEMOCRATS PLAN RALLY FRIDAY AT 8 AT TARTLTON

A Democratic rally is being planned in Tartlton Friday at 8 p. m. during which time Grover Traxler, assistant state director of education, will speak. Mr. Traxler is an expert on question of taxation.

Music is planned, also, as part of the program. Democratic leaders who are arranging the rally urge all residents of the Tartlton community to attend the meeting to become acquainted with the party's candidates. Rallies will be held in all parts of the county prior to the election.

such as bombing Gibraltar and firing on the "Free French" and British forces which attempted recently to land at Dakar.

Also, some high administration officials are displeased over Vichy's deal with Japan, allowing Japanese troops to enter French Indo-China at a time when the United States is attempting to restrain Tokyo's imperialistic march in the Far East.

In his talk with the President, the French envoy was understood to have given Mr. Roosevelt a broad picture of Vichy's position in the axis-dominated European continent. While enjoying some independence in domestic affairs France, the ambassador pointed out, still is largely under German domination.

Willkie Banners On City Poles Anger Ohio Solon

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2—As thousands of Republicans prepared to accord Wendell Willkie a noisy welcome to Cleveland late today the Democrats figuratively were up in arms over the display of "Win With Willkie" banners on the city's main artery, Euclid Avenue.

But, despite a vigorous protest by Councilman Emil Crown, there didn't seem to be much the Democrats could do about having the banners removed.

When the matter was brought to the attention of Acting Service Director Robert Hoffman he said, "I think I can take care of it in a week or two." The Republican nominee for president will leave Cleveland tomorrow morning.

Although Democratic County Chairman Ray Miller was in New York, he was reported to be satisfied with the fact that the Willkie banners are strung from utility poles, but, according to Crown, Miller was "a little wrong because the banners are on city light plant poles."

Protests Voiced
Numerous protests were made to Democratic headquarters about the signs, which blazon forth "Our Next President" and "Win With Willkie."

Crown, a Democrat, asked City Law Director Henry Brinard whether it wasn't illegal for any political advertising to be displayed on public or city property without a permit from city council.

Crown said Brinard admitted it was and Crown said he learned that no such permit had been issued covering the Willkie banners.

"If bunting or flags had been strung on the poles that would have been all right," Crown declared, "but those Willkie banners are out and out political advertising."

"But what can you expect from a Republican administration in city hall," he added. Congressman George Bender, Republican county chairman, called the charges of illegality "flimsy" and added: "If that is true, then every lodge, every organization that has come here recently is controlled by the utilities."

Crown admitted that the whole controversy was pretty much of a lost cause as far as the Democrats are concerned.

PICKAWAY TOWNSHIP GAINS $2,232 FROM SMITH ESTATE

Pickaway Township will receive $2,232.10 from inheritance tax on the estate of the late George Hunter Smith, Ross County. Part of the Smith property was located in the township. Announcement of the distribution was made Wednesday by Ross County Treasurer E. C. Nott who said that the total tax would be $102,226.07. Executors of the estate are Cyrus Hoffman, Cyrus Auch and the Chase National Bank, New York.

On July 8 the inheritance tax on the Ohio property of the late William McKell, late of Glen Jean, W. Va., was paid into the Ross County treasurer's office, totalling $226,728.54.

Approximate distribution of the Smith estate inheritance tax will be as follows: State of Ohio, $51,113.03; Chillicothe corporation, $47,412.87; Scioto Township, Ross County, $1,346.83; Pickaway Township, Pickaway County, $2,232.10; Union Township, Ross County, $122.24.

Under the McKell estate tax distribution, Chillicothe corporation's approximate share was $105,698.58. The two estates boost the city's inheritance Tax revenue this year by a total of $153,111.45.

will be led by Meeker Terwilliger and Bob Brehmer.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 2—A mother and her seven children sought shelter today after escaping flames from an overturned oil stove which swept through and partially destroyed their small frame home.

Mrs. Miriam Masters told authorities that one of her children, Don, aged six, accidentally kicked over the stove while playing in the kitchen. The flames leaped to the curtains and almost trapped Mrs. Masters and her children, three to ten years old, before she could lead them to safety. Firemen estimated damage at $600.

Under Protest

Whether 33 Orient school pupils will return to their own school or continue to attend classes at the Scioto Township school, Commercial Point, may be decided Thursday, before Common Pleas Judge Meeker Terwilliger.

The controversy between the Scioto Township board of education and parents of Orient pupils developed when the Scioto board voted to abandon the Orient school, maintaining, the State Department of Education had refused to grant any funds for operation of the school, since the average daily attendance at the school was not sufficient to warrant the appropriation.

Parents of 12 Orient pupils filed a petition with the Common Pleas Court, asking for a writ of mandamus against the Scioto board compelling it to reopen the school. Immediately after the petition was filed, Judge Terwilliger filed an alternative writ, demanding that the Scioto board show cause for its action. The two litigants appeared before the court September 16, but the judge granted an extension of time to the Scioto board after it had asked additional time to consider the case.

Orient pupils are now attending classes at Commercial Point, since the County board sent truancy notices to Orient parents, informing them that state laws compelled the children to go to school. Tom Renick, attorney for the Orient folk, has pointed out, however, that the pupils are going to Scioto Township under protest and that the condition has in no way indicated a change of opinion on the part of the Orient parents.

ROMANIA TELLS ALL BRITISH TO LEAVE COUNTRY

BUDAPEST, Oct. 2—In a sweeping move believed inspired by the axis powers, all British subjects were expelled from Romania today, according to reports from Bucharest.

Expulsion of the Britons, numbering several hundred, followed stiff British protests over arrests of five British subjects by Romanian police last week.

(Editor's Note: There was no confirmation in London of the reported expulsion of Britons from Romania.)

(A Reuters (British) dispatch from Bucharest said at least two of the arrested Britons in Romania had been ill-treated and that the others were haggard and depressed when visited by the British consul yesterday. Reuters claimed Romanian authorities themselves admitted ill-treatment of two of the prisoners.)

AGE PENSIONERS MEET SATURDAY IN CIRCLEVILLE

Old age pensioners of Pickaway County will hold a county rally in Memorial Hall, Circleville, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The purpose of this meeting is to revive the Pickaway County branch of the Ohio Society of Old Age Pensioners, which was started in Circleville several years ago. Similar rallies are being held all over the state and large crowds are attending everywhere.

The meeting has been called by Raymond J. Jeffreys, formerly with the State Division of Aid for the Aged.

T. J. Johnson of Columbus, President of the Ohio Society of the Old Age Pensioners, will accompany Mr. Jeffreys and conduct the official organization work.

"The Gentleman from Indiana"

A MOMENTOUS DEBATE

In the brave days of old they used to say, "In the midst of arms the law perishes". No better example of that can be found than in the general failure of the press to report the testimony now being given on the proposal to amend the Constitution to limit any President to one six-year term, or two four-year terms. This discussion ranks in importance with that which took place over the court packing bill. Many of these statements are constitutional classics. They cannot, perhaps, compete with Blitzkrieg headlines. But that "Advice to the Lovelorn" or quotations on hog futures crowds it out entirely is a commentary that draws its own moral.

There are millions who cannot "recall a single case where a republic has survived, except in name, the coming of a permanent chief executive", as was so well said the other day by John W. Davis. To them this debate is part of the Battle for America which certainly is as important as any battle beyond the seas.

Before the Committee of the United States are now appearing distinguished men, former Ambassador to Germany and President of Cornell, Jacob Gould Schurman; the noted historian, James Truslow Adams; Thomas Jefferson Colledge, former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury William A. Eddy, President of Hobart College; William Mather Lewis, President of LaFayette; Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of the Methodist Church; Frederick R. Coudert; John W. Davis; Mabel Jones West of Birmingham, past President of the Alabama Women's Democratic Club; Jefferson Davis; Dr. Theodore Graebner, the noted Lutheran of Concordia Seminary of St. Louis. Then we have Rev. Edward Lodge Curran of the Catholic Truth Society; President Archer of Suffolk University; Louis Taber, head of the National Grange; Vance McCormack, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee; Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins College; Emil Hurja, right hand man of James A. Farley; George White, another former chairman of the Democratic National Committee; President Wriston of Brown University, and many others of equal distinction.

These men and women are summing up before the Senate Committee one hundred and fifty years of American history. Many of them are Democrats or well known New Dealers. They are assembling a wealth of research in the pathology of democracies and the downfall of republics. Their statements constitute a record of profound interest which should be pondered by all who care about this nation as our fathers once did. At least high school and college students and their teachers of government would follow these proceedings if they knew about them. Perhaps it will be read some day by those who may be called upon to write the obituary of the American Constitution, as men are now writing the post mortem of France.

I express the hope that the managing editors of our newspapers will direct their Washington representatives to follow these hearings and report them.

A striking point of view was presented by President Lewis of LaFayette College: "A single term would enhance the dignity of the office of President of the United States. It is not an edifying spectacle to see the President of the United States and his Cabinet descend into the political arena to be the target for mud slinging, and to return the compliment with interest.

"One reason so many of our young people are cynical about our form of government and the idea that they should devote themselves to a life of public service, is because of the low opinion they gain of public men during political campaigns. How can they respect the distinguished public men who they learn from campaign speeches are dishonest, double-dealing, time-serving opportunists.

"Under a single six-year term the Chief Executive would devote all his time to being President of all people."

Bishop Hughes of the Methodist Church.

"Never in 37 years when the third term principle as such has been discussed have I heard any man favor it, unless he was definitely influenced by some current conditions that tied him with ardor either to a person or to a party."

Former Ambassador Schurman was in Germany from 1925 to 1930. He said:

"In my opinion the danger to our republic from a would be dictator using military weapons is much less than that to which it is exposed from one using political methods and agencies.

"In Germany, the land of monarchy and militarism, Hitler has demonstrated the way to become a dictator without plunging the country into a civil war.

"Hitler introduced something absolutely new in the technique of revolution. Using a language of a later date, I might say he planted a Fifth Column behind the lawful government, and — what's more than that — behind the mass of the German people.

"They represented the Nazi party which, in the course of a dozen year of untiring agitation, Hitler had built up out of insignificant, scattered and discordant elements.

"Hitler was immensely assisted by the discoveries and inventions of modern science. To mention only one example, it is difficult to believe that Hitler could have risen to the heights he attained without the use of the radio, which carried his propaganda beyond the circle of his home and district to the entire German nation of 65,000,000. The example of Hitler rising to supreme power in the state by political means and methods and by many years of agitation and propaganda demonstrates what may be possible in the United States."

However, the patrolman will, as usual, be extremely courteous, and merely escort you to the nearest deputy registrar if you have not yet secured your new driving permit.

Other police officers may be tougher. Many departments have issued orders to arrest those who have failed to secure permits. Youngstown alone reported 26 arrests yesterday for failure to have a driver's license.

Clyon W. Wallace, state registrar of motor vehicles, said that licenses this year would produce revenue estimated at $750,000.

FRANKFURTER'S NEW CHILDREN

For 21 years Justice Felix Frankfurter and his wife, the former Marion Denman, have led a very happy but childless married life. When Frankfurter taught at the Harvard Law School his home was the meeting place of students. And as Supreme Court Justice in Washington, young people still come to his home. But the Frankfurters have no children of their own.

Now, however, they are taking three refugee children into their home. They are the grandchildren of Gilbert Murray famous English writer and scholar.

The children are aged 3, 11 and 12—considerably younger than the young government attorneys whom the Frankfurters are accustomed to entertaining.

WILMINGTON, Oct. 2 — L. L. Faris, 69, former clerk of the Ohio House of Representatives, secretary of the state civil service commission and welfare department official, was dead today of a long illness. Faris, who lived at near-by Lynchburg, also served as collector of internal revenue at Cincinnati under President Wilson.

Rifle Range

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 2—An army board today investigated the fatal shooting of Private Gomer O. Thomas, 51, believed to be the first man ever killed by the army's new semi-automatic Garand rifle.

Officers said a preliminary probe indicated that Private Alfred Calabrese, 22, was cleaning one of the rifles in his tent without first emptying the magazine. The gun discharged accidentally, the bullet travelling through two tents and then striking Thomas, who was climbing out of a target pit 700 yards away.

Both enlisted men were members of the First Battalion of the Tenth Infantry, stationed at Ft. Hayes, Columbus.

BRICKER WOULD BAR ALL ANTIS FROM BALLOTS

OTTAWA, Oct. 2—A law which would prevent the names of Communist candidates from appearing on the ballot in this country was advocated today by Ohio's Governor Bricker.

Addressing the Northwestern Ohio Medical Association, Bricker asserted that "the time has come to write into law that the names of Communists shall never appear" on a ballot in this country.

"Now more than ever before there will be attempts to destroy this country from within and without," Bricker asserted. "There is not a foe in the world who could set foot on our shores if we didn't want him to."

Dr. Fred Mauere was elected president of the association, oldest medical society in Ohio. Other officers named were Dr. B. F. Mowery of Findlay, vice-president; Dr. C. L. McKibben of Toledo, secretary, and Dr. John Leahy of Tiffin, treasurer.

At The Cliftona

Billings and coolings, interspersed with bickerings and snickerings, bliss punctured by the throwing arm of a wife who doesn't miss, a doting husband emitting a note of agony when sister-in-law comes to stay for a while and occupies the other twin bed—that's just about what to expect in the way of marital goings-on in Paramount's new comedy-drama, "I Want a Divorce," opening Sunday at the Cliftona Theatre, starring Joan Blondell and Dick Powell.

As might be gathered, the result of this state of affairs is embodied in the title of the picture, but that's getting ahead of several important things. One is that Joan and Dick are supported by a grand cast including Gloria Dickson, Frank Fay, Jessie Ralph and Conrad Nagel. And another is that Joan and Dick, who are happily married in real life, are extraordinarily well cast as a pair of young people who marry, live happily, and then face the problem of divorce.

ments, its original motivation was not diplomatic but economic.

On August 30, Henderson sent the President a memorandum strongly urging a "complete embargo on exports of all grades of iron and steel scrap." He advised this on two grounds. (1) To meet the rapidly mounting demands of the defense program; (2) to combat a sky-rocketing of prices.

Roosevelt agreed with Henderson on his arguments, but held up action in order not to offend Japan.

Aware that the Axis was secretly pressuring Tokyo to enter an alliance, the President purposefully allowed Japan to obtain several hundred tons of scrap in the hope of warding off a Nazi-Jap tie-up. Not until it became clear that this appeasement policy was futile, did he turn to Henderson's proposal and crack down on scrap iron shipments.

TINY GIRL WITH PEANUT IN LUNG LITTLE IMPROVED

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2—The condition of Phyllis Jean Ely, 30-months-old Greenfield baby who has a peanut lodged in her lung, was reported somewhat improved today, although physicians emphasized that oil from the particle was constantly irritating the lung tissue and that the danger of pneumonia was ever-present. Surgeons made a throat incision in an effort to remove the peanut after use of a bronchoscope failed.

1. Hitler will occupy the rest of France, which will give him important French ports on the Mediterranean, such as Toulon and Marseilles.

2. Acting in cooperation with Spain, Hitler and Mussolini will launch a drive against Gibraltar and probably will be able to take it.

3. Italian forces will bomb the Suez Canal from the air in an attempt to damage it sufficiently so that British ships cannot pass through. This would mean bottle up the British fleet in the Mediterranean.

4. Italian and Nazi forces will attempt a drive through the Near East, cutting off British oil supplies in Mosul and Iraq.

While U. S. observers abroad have pretty good information that this is the Axis program, the question of whether it will succeed is another matter. The proposed operations in France, Spain and Gibraltar probably will be successful, but the drive on Egypt and the Near East is not so simple.

So far the Italians have not shown the ability to do it alone, and if they are to succeed they will need major support from Hitler.

A WORRIED FUEHRER
HAS Hitler "missed the bus" now? His appointed time for taking England over has come and gone. He might yet succeed, but it seems unlikely that he can do it this year, with the weather turning against him and British defense strengthened and the Britons themselves more confident and American war supplies going over in steadily growing volume.
Totalitarian devilry, of course, can take new forms. Italy is more active and so is Japan, and the three predatory powers are showing some neat teamwork, strangely abetted by the French government at Vichy. John Bull, threatened on many fronts at once, stands in the arena pierced by the spears and bleeding in a dozen places, but still game. It is not time yet for the matador to draw his sword for the kill. Indeed, it looks as if the bull himself may yet chase the killer from the ring.
Britain still controls the sea, and now seems likely to continue its control for some time, at least. So it looks like a hard winter for Germany and Italy and the countries plundered by their gangster-bosses.
This improvement in the British situation naturally helps America. We have at least a few months more to arm, unless we let ourselves become involved prematurely in Asia. Once fully armed, we may not have to fight.

If you don't know, there are three ways of finding out. Ask John Kieran, sports and "Information Please" expert, call up your lawyer, or ask the Bureau of Motor Vehicles of the Empire State for a copy of its new driving manual.
There are 100 questions in this manual, with the answers. Applicants for driving licenses in New York must study the booklet and know the answers before they go up for examination. Besides passing a driving test, they will be asked five of the questions. Unless they can answer at least three correctly they will be denied licenses.
This sounds like business, and if the examinations are fairly conducted, it should result in better driving than here-

JAPAN GETS AVIATION FUEL
WASHINGTON—The new iron and steel scrap embargo finally shut off one of Japan's key military supplies. But few know that the door still is wide open for another equally vital war material which is supposed to be under a drastic ban.
On July 26 the President set up a licensing system on exports of high-test aviation gasoline. Aimed chiefly at Japan, this move has been effective—as far as it goes. It has stopped the flow of top U. S. aviation fuel to Nipponese war planes.
But through a loophole as big as a barn door, Japan has been able, despite this supposedly stringent embargo, to obtain all the U. S. gas it needs for the bombers that are raining death and destruction on helpless Chinese cities and villages. This loophole is the little-noticed provision that limits the embargo only to a certain super-grade of gas—87 octane and over.
This type of fuel is essential for modern aerial warfare. Without it planes are not able to attain the great speeds necessary in dog fights and raids such as take place night and day over Britain.
But Japan is not up against that kind of battling. Its bombers and fighter planes face no aerial opposition. They have the skies to themselves. They don't need super-gas. They can do just as well on lower octane fuel. Their job is no different than an ordinary transport plane's. They haul out a load of bombs, dump it and fly back.
And so, with high octane gas barred, the Japs have been using what they could get—and have continued their ruthless bombing without interruption.
The story is told in the following unpublished government figures. In the month after the imposition of the so-called embargo, Japan imported from the United States 187,026 barrels of lower grade gasoline, or more than 20 percent of all such exports during that period.
Military experts say that Japanese planes, if necessary, can use ordinary motor fuels as long as they are not required to operate at very high speeds.

SCRAP AUTHOR
Real instigator of the airtight scrap embargo was not the War, Navy or State Department. It was a civilian—Defense Commissioner Leon Henderson.
Also, although the embargo coincided with European and Far Eastern developments, with much better knowledge of driving rules and laws.

Some states have no license provisions at all. In others, Ohio, for example, the licensing is merely a device to collect another state tax. No one finds out whether a driver knows how to drive or understand any state or civic regulations. Uniform licensing regulations, just, competent and strong, are needed.

WORLD AT A GLANCE . . . . . —By— Charles P. Stewart
PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says Dr. Leopoldo Melo of Argentina misquoted him, in a speech the latter made in Buenos Aires, to the effect that the White House tented told him Uncle Sam's sanitary ban on the entrance of Argentine meat into the United States will be lifted after election.
Of course, I don't know anything as to the merits of that particular controversy.
I do know, however, that the ban prevails, on the grounds that some of the southern republic's meat harbors germs of an undesirable character. The Argentines deny this emphatically. They want the ban lifted.
Anyway, awhile ago we bought an order of Argentina canned beef for our navy, not to be imported into our country in defiance of our sanitary ban, but to be loaded onto such of our warships as visited Buenos Aires and eaten up at sea, by our sailors.
It was a purchase which incensed our North American cattlemen. Answering their howls, President Roosevelt stated that it was a handy transaction, that the stuff cost less than it would have cost here at home and that Argentine beef is magnificent eating—which is true leaving germs out of consideration.
The essential point is that the Argentines say their meat's as germless as anybody's and there's a good deal of sentiment, strongly unindorsed by our stockmen, in favor of having that ban lifted—mainly toward the promotion of nice Pan Americanism.
Now, it happens that, not far back, I lived for six years in Argentina. I ran a farm there.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE
CORAL, in the meantime, was working energetically at the double task of finding out all she could about the place, and of ingratiating herself with the men. In the latter, at least, she succeeded admirably—before the evening came any of them would have eaten out of her hand, and several of them would gladly have risked death for her. She had a way with her, had Coral Merriwell.
Later Otto explained their plans in regard to the two prisoners. Coral approved—or appeared to—and suggested that when the man Gunston was brought across that night she should meet him. Thus, she suggested, she would be able to "size him up" and to establish a footing with him. She would, she said, appear to be very sympathetic. Otto, after some consideration, agreed.
So Gun and Tommy got their meal that evening. As the day wore on their excitement about it increased, and their mouths were watering by the early evening.
Gun duly went through the farce of bribing the guard as soon as darkness fell, and in what was a suspiciously short time (or might have seemed so, if Tommy had not been "in the know") the meal arrived. Trent had certainly done them well. There was a dish of broiled mutton, with potatoes, some kind of boiled greens, and canned peas. Cheese and biscuits. Two quart bottles of English beer, and a bottle of whiskey. Also 25 cigarettes.
They ate, drank and were merry. And presently Tommy went to bed. Gun went down near the gate and gave a low whistle. It was answered, and then, after a long pause, came another whistle. Gun went to the gate, which was opened for him. This time it was the guard, and not Trent, who conducted him across to the living quarters.
A different room, this time. A much larger room, furnished like a drawing room. Gun blinked in the light, and saw that, besides Trent, Otto (whom he thought of as "Fullinger") and the girl were there.
Gun wondered how deeply she was in this business, and how much she knew of these villains' plans. It struck him that, if not too much of either, she might yet be useful.
Trent performed introductions—of a kind.
"Mr. Gunston. This gentleman is our—er—commander. And this lady is Miss Coral."
"A privilege," murmured Gun, and bowed to the lady. Then, looking her very straight in the eye, he said: "I must apologize for my very unkempt appearance, but, as Mr. Trent may possibly explain to you, it is not entirely my fault."
He had seen her before. She was the girl he had seen coming from Watson's house that evening in Grosvenor place.
She came to him, hand extended. "Why, that's all right, Mr. Gunston. I guess I'm pleased to meet you anyhow. Besides, I like a man to look a bit wild."
Gun was simultaneously struck by two things—the queer sort of pressure she gave his hand, and the subtle change in her voice since he had heard it before. That applied to her manner, too, and Gun wondered what it meant.
"Will you have a drink, Mr. Gunston?" came the harsh voice of Otto. Evidently he was taking charge. And a smoke?
"Thank you—just a little whiskey. And a cigarette, if you don't mind. After long abstinence, a cigar might be too strong for me."
"As you wish. Sit down, please, Mr. Gunston."
It was an order rather than a

Work Among Dependents Discussed for League

Mrs. Robert Adkins
On Program; Play
To Be Offered

Twenty-one members of the Child Conservation League gathered Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ray Reid for a luncheon meeting. The members were seated at one large table and three small ones. Garden flowers were used to decorate the rooms. Mrs. Franklin Price was assisting hostess.

Mrs. Robert Adkins, the former Virginia Smith, was a guest at the luncheon and also the speaker for the afternoon session. Mrs. Adkins is a social welfare worker connected with the Bureau of Aid to Dependent Children. She opened her talk with this quotation:

"Nations are gathered out of nurseries, and they who hold the leading strings of children may even exercise a greater power than those who hold the reins of government."

Mrs. Adkins stated that there are 71 A. D. C. families in Pickaway County or 197 dependent children. The budget for these dependents for the month of October is $1,849.

She said that the average grant for a family is $26.04 and average grant per child, $9.38.

After explaining the work of this department, Mrs. Adkins, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Adkins, Jr., presented a skit based on an actual case that had come before the Bureau.

At the conclusion of her talk, Mrs. Adkins led an informal discussion of social welfare problems in this county.

Mrs. Tom Renick, president, conducted the business meeting. The league voted to give $10 to Girl Scout Troop No. 4.

It was decided to continue the league policy of presenting a Claire Tree Major play to the children of Circleville and Pickaway County Schools. The play selected was "Hans Brinker" or "The Silver Skates" to be presented Tuesday, November 26.

Washington Booster Night
"Fraternity and a Troubled World" was the subject discussed by State Grange Master W. F. Kirk Tuesday at the Booster Night meeting of the Washington Grange. One hundred and twenty-five were present for the session in the Washington School auditorium.

Fall flowers decorated the hall for the occasion.

Music by the grange orchestra was included in the program; the orchestra members being Miss Dorothy Glick, Miss Ethyl May, Miss Helen Bowman, Mrs. Russell Palm and Earl Palm.

Turney Glick, county deputy, read the booster message from L. J. Taber, national master. Miss May played a marimba solo followed by a short skit, "The Backyard Quarrel," with Lawrence Warner and Byron Bolender taking the character parts. Carol Leist, 5, entertained the group with a vocal solo, the orchestra concluding the program with "God Bless America," the audience joining in singing the chorus.

Mrs. Hazel Bowman won first prize in the apple pie contest for which there were 19 entries. The second prize went to Miss Nellie Kuhn and the third to Mrs. Howard Huston. Miss Mary Shortridge judged the pies. The three winners in this contest will compete in the Pomona Grange contest in November.

Miss Hulda Leist and other members of the refreshments committee, served the apple pies with ice cream and coffee during the social hour.

Many visitors were present from the other granges of the county.

Logan Elm Grange
Ten candidates, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dodd, Miss Evonne Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Martens, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burger and John Penn, were waiting Tuesday when Logan Elm Grange opened in regular session. After the candidates were introduced, the first and second degrees were conferred by the officers of the grange. Vocal music for the ceremony was furnished by a trio comprised of Mrs. Marvin Dreisbach, Mrs. Charles Dresbach and Mrs. George Jury, with Miss Helen Wilson playing the piano accompaniment.

The ladies' degree team of Washington Grange will confer the third and fourth degrees on these candidates October 22.

After the business session, the guests were invited to the dining room where Mrs. Harry Montellus and members of the refreshments committee served lunch at tables decorated with fall flowers.

Washington Luncheon Guests
Mrs. William Lappe of Washington C. H. entertained 10 Circleville friends at an informal luncheon Tuesday at her home.

The guest list included Mrs. G. H. Adkins, Mrs. Charles Smith, Miss Adella Huffman, Mrs. Robert Denman, Mrs. Earl Price, Mrs. Edward Helwagen, Mrs. T. P. Brown, Mrs. A. J. Lyle, Mrs. Harold Ullom and Mrs. Earl Hilyard.

Williamsport Card Club
Mrs. Glen Baker of Wilmington entertained her three table card club of Williamsport Tuesday at the Wardell party home. Bowls of marigolds centered the small tables where the guests were served dinner at 7 p. m.

Auction bridge games entertained the group during the evening with the score prizes going to Mrs. Russell McDill of Frankfort and Mrs. H. W. Campbell of Williamsport.

Those present for the delightful evening were Mrs. McDill of

"SAFETY PATROL" BEGINS

The WKRC "Safety Patrol", which was organized in September, 1938, in the interests of safety for the boys and girls of great Cincinnati, will start its weekly "school safety meetings of the air", October 8, and be heard thereafter each Tuesday from 5 to 5:30 p. m.

The program, which will be beginning its third year on WKRC, will bring to the studio each week a different school, thus giving opportunity for the safety patrol boys and girls of that school to translate to the public the results of their daily school safety instruction.

John F. Locke, community relations director for the Cincinnati Public Schools, will continue as "chief".

This safety club probably the largest student organization of its kind in the United States, has a membership of approximately 90,000 boys and girls who have signed the following five-point pledge:

1. I will always stop and look both ways before crossing the streets.
2. I will always cross streets at intersections, never between blocks.
3. I will never hitch rides, or ride double on a bicycle.
4. I will never play in the streets.
5. I will always obey by school-boy safety patrolman in going to and from school.

RADIO BRIEFS

Jackie Kelk, who plays "Homer" in "The Aldrich Family," has won another teen-age role. He will be heard as Pete Alcott in "Mother O' Mine" which will start on the NBC-Blue network, October 7.

In addition to being on several different programs weekly, John the Call Boy makes about ten personal appearances each week at club gatherings. Accompanying him is Announcer Charles O'Connor and the two indulge in repartee for the benefit of guests.

Willie Howard, new comedian on the Kate Smith Hour, declares he likes radio more than he expected. "On the stage," he explains, "you wait for laughs. If they don't come, you feel awful. On the air you don't have to wait. If there are no laughs, you never know it until your option comes up."

Here is a breakdown of autograph hunters after a recent, "We, the People": the kids went after Dizzy Dean, cab-drivers were interested in one Jimmy Yancey, originator of boogie woogie music, and women sought out Roger Adams, survivor of the Hercules powder explosion.

Like the comic characters, Mike and Ike who look alike, the Niles boys, Ken and Wen, not only look alike but work alike. Their radio careers are almost parallel. Both are top Hollywood announcers, both have been actors and directors, both sing and both are now spicing for cigaret sponsors!

STARS SAY—

For Wednesday, October 2 VERY auspicious lunar transits point to a particularly lively and progressive day, with the energies and faculties under high pressure for attaining high objectives. This applies to business, new projects and intellectual work of high order. Writings, publicity, promotional enterprises may flourish particularly if connected with large or secret organizations, where cleverness and subtlety are required. Social interests should also thrive. Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a very active and progressive year. New ventures should move at a lively pace in launching new and important projects. Such efforts in connection with large corporations or secret societies where subtlety, craft, and unusual mental gifts and intuitions are valuable are under excellent planetary direction. All business pertaining to writings, promotion, advertising, and correspondence should thrive. Social and domestic contacts should also be successful.

A child born on this day will be highly intellectual, cultured, artistic and refined. He should have these fine talents backed up by much energy and initiative.

URGENT! Message To Women Who Suffer FEMALE PAIN

Girls and women who suffer painful irregular periods (headaches, backache, cramps) with upset hysterical nerves should find Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very effective to relieve such distress and help build up resistance against these spells. Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound is made especially to help such weak, rundown, nervous women to go smiling thru "difficult days." Famous for over half a century! Well WORTH TRYING! Any drugstore.

BUCKS DRILLING DILIGENTLY FOR PURDUE CONTEST

COLUMBUS, Oct. 2—Ohio State's battling Buckeyes forgot their 30 to 7 victory over Pittsburgh today and settled down to hard work in preparation of the opening of the Big Ten—or Big Nine—season Saturday when Purdue's "boilermakers" breeze into town.

Scouts who witnessed Purdue's 28 to 0 victory over Butler last Saturday have warned that the Boilermakers will be anything but a pushover for the Western Conference's defending titlists. Speed is the mainstay of the Purdue offense which has sophomores as its spearhead.

Coach Mal Elward's backfield is made up of Bob Kersey, 185-pound junior, at quarterback; Mike Byelene, 165 pounds of greased lightning, at right half; Veteran John Galvin at the other half, and John Petty, husky plunger who has the speed of a lightweight, at fullback.

Byelene, incidentally, hails from the nation's high school football capital, Massillon, O., as does two other squad members. Five other Ohio boys are also on the squad and will be out to show the home state crowd their stuff.

Three yearlings, however, probably will see plenty of action in running plays against the Bucks. Marion "Red" Carter, younger brother of one of Purdue's football greats; Bill Buffington, a fullback, and Tony Berto, 170-pound half, each showed up well in Purdue's inaugural.

Carter's shifty sprinting brought one of the Boilermakers' four touchdowns. Buffington and Berto also scored once each. Fullback Petty ripped through the Butler line for the other Purple and Gold score.

OHIO U. MEETS STRONG BUTLER COLLEGE SQUAD

ATHENS, Oct. 2—Ohio University's grid squad got its first test of the season Saturday when the Bobcats meet a powerful Butler eleven in Ohio Stadium.

The husky Butler Bulldogs, undefeated last season and conquerors of the Bobcats by a 12-7 score at Indianapolis in '39, will be one of the heaviest teams ever seen at Ohio stadium. Advance reports from the Butler camp indicate that the starting Bulldog line will average over 207 pounds per man.

In the Bobcat camp, Ohio U. coach, Don Peden, was not satisfied with the Bobcat showing against Youngstown College in the opener despite the fact that the Ohio U. eleven had little trouble in taking a 13-0 victory and didn't use many of the new Peden "razzle-dazzle" plays. The Ohio blocking and defensive was definitely below par and the Bobcat squad can expect plenty of drilling in these departments this week.

The great all-around play of the Bobcat touchdown twins, Danny Risaliti, and Jimmy Snyder, Canton senior backs, was the high light of the Youngstown encounter. Snyder's beautiful 32 yard run on a reverse play scored the first touchdown and the Risaliti to Snyder aerial combination set up the second Bobcat score.

Also encouraging was the showing of 24 reserve men who demonstrated that the Bobcats will be well fixed of reserve strength this season.

CUBS TO PITCH OLSEN AGAINST RAMPANT SOX

CHICAGO, Oct. 2—The Chicago City baseball series is only one day old today, but already it begins to take its old, familiar shape. The White Sox are ahead, and the Cubs, their best pitcher beaten, once more are in their accustomed role of underdogs.

A slim, pale-faced Norwegian youngster from the great northwest, Vern Olsen, stands today between the Cubs and a possible rout. Olsen, the rookie southpaw whose 13 victories this season ranked him third among the Cub pitchers, was nominated to face the rampaging White Sox in the second game of the series at Wrigley Field this afternoon. If he fails, the Sox may well win in five games.

Against Olsen, Manager Jim Dykes of the Sox sent another left-hander, the broad-shouldered California giant, Thornton Lee.

The story of the Sox 5 to 3 victory in yesterday's opener is simple to tell. Ted Lyons was at his superb best, Claude Passeau, ace of the Cub pitching staff, hurried to notch ball, too, but he couldn't stop Lyons and Mike Kreevich.

Lyons, in addition to scattering the Cubs' 10 hits, himself wallowed two singles and a double in his first three trips to the plate, and drove in the three runs that proved

Tigers Hard At Work As Greenfield Tilt Nears; Trego To Resume Duties

Confident that their hard-smashing line will be able to break up Greenfield McClain's running attack led by Eldon Newland, Circleville High Tigers are again hard at work in preparation for the opening of the Central Ohio League joust scheduled Friday on the field of the Greenfield school.

Easy practices for Coach Roy Black's youngsters are things of the past, since hard drills of a week ago proved so successful in getting the boys in shape for the Lancaster contest.

Tuesday evening's workout included a long session with the tackling and blocking dummies, all boys on the squad getting in their licks. Offensive assignment were gone over, too, plays being built up from their foundation with each boy in the line and backfield brushing up on his duties as the various signals were called.

Trego Ready Again

The possibility was seen Wednesday that only one change would be made in the starting lineup as the Greenfield game approached. George Trego, out of uniform when Lancaster invaded the local ballpark because of a broken nose, is ready for the wars again, a special guard being prepared for the smashed proboscis. All other line positions will remain the same as last week, Jackson at the right end, Sabine and Liston at the tackles, Crawford and Martin at the guards and Brown at center.

The backfield starters are not yet certain but indications are that Geib, Callihan, Eby and Kline will get the call. Geib and Callihan were taking it easy Tuesday evening because of leg and hip bruises, but both will be ready Friday. Joe Staley's injured ankle is slow in coming around, but he may be ready to play. Jenkins hasn't practiced yet this week.

McClain Center Injured

Greenfield suffered a tough break in its game at London last Friday when Ralph Kerns, veteran center, broke his collarbone and will be out for the year. Although a small youngster, Coach Red Armstrong rates him as one of the most valuable on the squad because of his smart and aggressive play.

Officials for the game will be Bob Shea of Ohio Wesleyan, Eli Barnach of Wilmington and Chuck Koterba of Ohio U.

Coach Black is planning to take 33 boys to Greenfield, but as yet arrangements have not been completed for their transportation. A bus will be obtained, but it will not be large enough for this number.

STARS OF MINOR LEAGUES CALLED TO MAJOR LOOPS

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2—A number of promising minor league ball players were headed for the majors today following the annual Major League draft meeting last night on the eve of the World Series opening game.

The Philadelphia Phillies, with first choice of the field, selected Frank Melton, ace pitcher with Columbus in the American Association. The Philadelphia A's, with second choice, drafted Peter Zuder, Kansas City second baseman.

The other draftees were George Archie, Seattle first baseman, by Washington; Ace Adams, Nashville pitcher, by the New York Giants; Bob Scheffing, Rochester catcher, by the Chicago Cubs; Oscar Judd, Sacramento pitcher, by the Boston Red Sox; Edward Stewart of San Diego, by Pittsburgh; Bill Swift, St. Paul pitcher, Floyd Young, Atlanta second baseman, Thompson Livingston, Springfield, Mass., catcher, and Al Sherer, New Orleans pitcher all by Brooklyn; Murray Howell of Baltimore, by Cleveland and Mike Christoff of Oakland by Cincinnati.

STOUTSVILLE

Dr. and Mrs. G. P. Huddle, W. A. Meyers and daughter, Blanche, Miss Ellen Crites spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Neff and son Carl of Linden.

Miss Eleanor Stout returned to the O. S. U. Tuesday and Miss Miss Della Lou Goodman entered O. S. U. Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Crites of Athens were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crites and other relatives here over the week end.

C. E. Stein and grandson, Charles Nelson Valentine, called Saturday on A. O. Stein and family of Circleville.

the margin of victory. For the most part, Passeau did a good job of stopping the Sox sluggers, although Moose Solters snacked a home over the left field wall.

TIGERS ARE CONFIDENT

Much Of Cincinnati Fate Put In Hands Of Ohio Team's Hurlers

By Lawton Carver

Crosley Field, CINCINNATI, Oct. 2—Buck Newsom against Paul Derringer in a right-handed pitching and baseball's most uncompromising batting attack against the game's record-breaking defensive team was the program today when the Detroit Tigers, of the American League, met the Cincinnati Reds, of the National, in the first game of the World Series before an expected crowd of 32,000, including standees.

The Tigers, with all hands ready and eager and enthusiastic, were 13 to 10 favorites for the series, the weather reports were reassuring and everything was all set except one extremely relevant and fairly important item. Not only were the Reds undecided as to who would pitch for them today, they didn't know exactly who would catch or play second base.

Derringer seemed the logical choice to hurl in his third World Series going back to 1931 when he was a St. Louis Cardinal, but Manager Bill McKechnie was tardy in making this official and he couldn't say for sure whether the venerable Jimmy Wilson, who now is a coach by trade, or crippled Ernie Lombardi would be behind the plate, or whether Eddie Joost, with a .216 batting average, or crippled Linus Frey would be at second.

Reds Solemn

The seriousness of their plight if it is serious—was reflected in the Reds' general demeanor. They were quiet and businesslike in contrast to the sheer exuberance displayed by the Tigers in their easy banter. The Tigers know they have a knockout punch in the persons of Hank Greenberg and Rudy York, among others, and their only concern is to land it. The Reds have little punch, no predetermined lineup and, for all anybody can tell possibly no great amount of hope.

They had better get the pitching. As to that, the Tigers may get some fair pitching themselves considering that Newsom will go into the series with a record of 21 wins against five defeats during the American League campaign. Derringer, if he is nominated, compares quite favorably. He won 22 and lost 10 for the Reds.

However, the Red pitching wasn't good enough to win even one game from the New York Yankees last year and there must be a supposition as to whether they can do it this time. They are pitifully weak at bat, although their defense has been lauded as being possibly on a par with the greatest, in contrast with the Tigers' creaky infield.

Reds Win Close One

The point seems to be that everything is going to be settled by the pitchers—whether the Reds can stifle the Tigers' bats sufficiently to offset their own lack of scoring punch. The Reds can win the close ones, as they proved all season by taking 41 games by a margin of one run.

U. C. BEARCATS IN TOUGH COMPANY AGAINST SAILORS

COLUMBUS, Oct. 2—The University of Cincinnati Bearcats step into the "big time" Saturday afternoon when they tie into the Navy eleven at Annapolis in the contest featuring 24 games involving Ohio teams.

Boosting their best team in years, the Bearcats opened with a 45-0 win over Hanover and last week edged a strong University of Louisville team, 7-0. However, in the latter game the Bearcats were definitely playing under wraps as Navy scouts were in the stands.

After a 13-0 win over Youngstown, Don Peden sends his Danny Risaliti, Jimmy Snyder and Co. into battle against Butler at Athens in another outstanding contest. Risaliti did some beautiful passing as the Bobcats took Youngstown and he is expected to be in form again Saturday.

Other games matching Ohio teams against outside opponents include Findlay at Transylvania, Ky., and Detroit Tech at Youngstown, both Friday night games. These are the Saturday tilts: Davis-Elkins at Toledo; Alabama A. and M. at Wilberforce; Wooster at Gettysburg, Pa.; Rochester at Oberlin; Dayton at Marshall and St. Mary's, Mich., at DeSales. In those tilts we'll take, Ohio U., Navy, Findlay, Youngstown, Toledo Wilberforce, Wooster, Oberlin, Marshall and DeSales.

The Ohio Conference moves into full swing with seven games carded for the week, five on Friday night. Muskingum should take Mt. Union's twice defeated team; Capital, victor over Kenyon, is a strong favorite to down Marietta, which lost to Georgetown; Denison's power-house should powerhouse Ohio Northern; John Carroll will upset the Baldwin-Wallace apocalyptic, which has been slightly over-rated; Heidelberg will win its second start from Ashland.

Election Board To Clear Decks For Draft Activity

County Group To Gather Thursday To Discuss Ways And Means

GUARDS GIVEN ORDERS

Local Outfit May Remain In Circleville Until Later In October

With national military registration for all men between the ages of 21 and 35 years only two weeks away, local election boards Wednesday were preparing for the registration of Pickaway County's 3,430 men of eligible age.

Claude Kraft, clerk of the county board of elections, announced that he had called a meeting of the election board for Thursday night to discuss plans for registration procedure. Kraft said that he had not yet received definite information from the government, but added that he hoped he would have definite instructions to offer the board Thursday night. He stated that he had notified clerks to provide place for holding the registration in the various townships.

Information thus far released contends that each person of eligible age will register in his respective voting precinct. After the October 16 registration, the registration procedure will be turned over to a military draft board consisting of five men. The three presiding judges who will choose the draft board for the county are Meeker Terwilliger, Lemuel Weldon and Clark Will. The three-man committee met Tuesday immediately after announcement was received that the appointment of Clark Will as third member of the committee, had been approved by the governor. The three judges will meet Friday to select the county draft board.

Meanwhile, Circleville's National Guard troops are making final preparations for mobilization. Lieutenant Joseph Lynch of the local Service Battery Unit announced that he received official notice Wednesday for mobilization on October 15. The order came from Regimental Commander Col. L. M. Kroeber, Columbus. Lieutenant Lynch said, and would affect both active and inactive members of the guard. The inactive clause of the order may affect at least two members of the local guard.

Administrative reports, entirely unofficial, state that the local troop will remain in Circleville until October 24, following mobilization on the 15th, and that during that time they will assemble all federal property for shipment. On October 24, they will leave immediately for Fort Shelby, Shelby, Mississippi.

Local guard officials have been notified that they will receive additional transportation equipment, probably in the form of trucks. The local unit now has four 2½ ton trucks and one station wagon. An inventory of supplies and equipment is being made.

"fundamental basis" of Japanese policy.

The suggestion, however, was described by the spokesman as an "interesting" revelation of the "trend in the United States following the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo pact." But he said the suggestion was not official and apparently was not in accordance with the policies of the Roosevelt administration and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Furthermore, said the spokesman, such a move would be impractical at present because the present status of Japanese-American relations is based on the "existing policy of the United States" as exemplified in the embargo on exports of scrap iron and steel.

With regard to Russia, the spokesman asserted that any negotiations for a Russo-Japanese non-aggression pact must await the arrival in Moscow of Nippon's new ambassador to Russia, Yoshitogo Tatematsu, who is due to reach the Soviet capital October 25.

He commented that Japan is ready to enter a non-aggression pact with any nation which takes the initiative in seeking diplomatic, peaceful solution of differences. The spokesman had nothing to say on reports from Berlin that Germany is encouraging Russo-Japanese negotiations toward such a pact.

STATE'S DRAFT BOARDS RUSHING THEIR ACTIVITY

COLUMBUS, Oct. 2—State officials intimated today that Ohio's 338 draft boards virtually would be set up and in working order by the end of the week.

Committees in 88 counties were busy selecting members of five-man draft boards and were expected to forward recommendations to Governor Bricker tomorrow.

Although the draft boards must be approved by President Roosevelt, military authorities intimated that presidential action would be a "routine matter."

It was estimated that 850,000 Ohioans between the ages of 21 and 35 would register for selective service October 16, of that number, it was said, 15,000 would be chosen for a year's training.

BUCHAREST — Lester Freeman, an American citizen employed by the Romano-American Oil Co. in Romania, was at liberty today after the United States legation filed a strong protest with the Romanian government, demanding full satisfaction for his temporary arrest and alleged ill-treatment.

ROME — Capture of British mechanized equipment in the Libyan desert and fierce Italian and Royal Air Force counter air raids over vast sectors of Africa were reported today in an official communique which said: "In North Africa, our motorized reconnaissance detachments captured some armored cars and motorcycles which the enemy had left behind on his flight south from Sidi Barrani."

PONTIAC OFFERS WILLKIE APOLOGY FOR EGG HEAVE

PONTIAC, Mich., Oct. 2—The person who threw an egg at Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, when Willkie appeared in Pontiac yesterday, should be "soundly trounced," Commissioner Roy A. Strausser declared today.

As the city council prepared to send an apology to Willkie, police were ordered to round up and punish to the fullest extent of the law anybody suspected of implication in the egg throwing incident.

Meanwhile, Mayor George W. Booth added his comments on the egg throwing affair, saying:

"This whole affair in Pontiac is most unbecoming to law abiding citizens. It is a shame and a disgrace and contrary to our constitution which guarantees every man the right of free speech."

BIRDS JAM FLUE
BROOKHAVEN, Mass. — Miss Alice Boughton today knows what caused her water-heating system to go out of order. A plumber found four dead birds—two owls, a blackbird and a bird of undetermined species—jammed in the flue.

OHIO SOLON ASKS STUDY OF UNCLE SAM'S FINANCES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—A resolution calling for appointment of a congressional committee to investigate and report on the financial structure of the nation was introduced in the house by Rep. Smith (R) Ohio today.

Smith's resolution suggested the committee be comprised of nine representatives, who would include members of the ways and means, the banking and currency, and the coinage, weights and measures committees.

The Ohioan introduced the resolution after making public more than 50 pages of research on the financial state of the nation. He declared it appeared as if "the subject of the public debt now has become almost taboo in the house chamber."

"I do not want the title of alarmist," Smith asserted, "but I believe that there are among us in congress today those who would rather forget than attempt to debate a small problem such as, shall we say, the subject of the 'national debt'."

Smith's study of the financial position of the nation included research on the federal debt, condition of bank credit, and "the political confiscation of the produce of labor, and its arbitrary redistribution by means of grants, payments, subsidy, etc."

GOOD CRANBERRY CROP

HYLANNIS—Cranberries are in season. Good crops were reported as growers in the Cape Cod area harvested their first crop of the season. Most of the crop is still green, but satisfactory for mixing with "holdover" berries for canning.

REPUBLICANS SEND TRUCK INTO COUNTY TERRITORY

Republican officials announced Wednesday that the Republican sound truck, provided for Ray Davis, Republican candidate for congress, will be in Circleville at 9:30 p. m. Saturday.

The sound truck, carrying with it recordings of speeches made by Wendell Willkie and Governor Bricker, and statements of other candidates for national office, is one of the trucks provided by the State Republican committees for their candidates.

Ray Davis will be with the truck Thursday, when it stops at Sugar Grove, Friday when it stops in Williamsport at 8:30 p. m. and at Ashville at 9:30 p. m. He is also expected to be with the truck when it stops in Circleville Saturday night.

LOANS TOTALLING $264,321 MADE ON STORED WHEAT

Pickaway County Conservation officials reported Wednesday that 726 warehouse loans on 312,388 bushels of wheat have been made in the county. The loans amount to $264,321.

Thirteen loans, amounting to $5,147 have been made on 7,010 bushels of wheat stored on the farms, John Boggs, county conservation chairman said.

ROSS COUNTY CORN BEE SCHEDULED OCTOBER 12

Ross County's annual corn husking contest will be conducted October 12 on the farm of Harley Hiser, near Clarksburg. Competition will start at 10 a. m. with standing corn to be first, shock contests coming at 1 p. m.

Several Pickaway Countians usually compete in the Ross County event when no contest is conducted locally.

BROTHERHOOD TO MEET

Members of the Lutheran Brotherhood will hold their first indoor meeting of the season when they meet at the Parish House Thursday evening at 7:30. Principal speaker of the evening will be Karl Herrmann, who will talk on "Appreciation of Our Country." A quiz program on "Facts We Should Know About United States" will be included in the program, with R. L. Brehmer and Luther Bower as quiz team captains. The Rev. George Troutman will be in charge of the program.

DON'T SAY WE DIDN'T TELL YOU!

Before your next oil change ask yourself:

"Do I want to go through another winter without the protection of Guaranteed Starting?"

Don't be disappointed! If you plan having your oil changed soon, don't change to "just any oil." Last year many people who wanted SOHIO Guaranteed Starting made the mistake of changing oil with some other brand early in October. At the first cold snap they came in to get the SOHIO Guarantee certificate. But, of course, the valuable protection of Guaranteed Starting comes only with the use of SOHIO products and service.

To avoid such disappointments, we are making this special early announcement: If you want the protection of SOHIO'S written starting guarantee all this coming winter, be sure to make your next oil change at SOHIO.

FREE—Get Guaranteed Starting With Just Regular Winter Precautions! Motor oil, gear oil, gasoline, your battery winter-tested—that's all you need. No "red tape." You get our written certificate with just these regular SOHIO winter-grade products and our winter battery service.

HOW YOU ARE PROTECTED: No matter how cold it gets from now until April 1, 1941, we guarantee your motor starts. If you ever fail to start, just call a garage to start your motor—and Standard Oil will pay the garage starting bill!
